

Agricultural Soils Map

NOTE: Farmland Soils can be used to identify the location and extent of lands that have productive soils. Those lands may qualify to be protected from conversion to nonagricultural uses. It is the goal of the Connecticut Department of Agriculture, Farmland Preservation Program's to secure and protect land resources that produce food and fiber for the future of agriculture in Connecticut.

